

Spotlight on ATAL B.V., the Netherlands' Resource for Extech's Leading Meters and Testers

Purmerend, The Netherlands (17 September 2008) – Extech Instruments (www.extech.com), a subsidiary of FLIR Systems, Inc., has increased Dutch distribution of its broad line of test and measurement equipment through its relationship with ATAL B.V., a distribution partner based in Purmerend, in the North Holland province. With Extech and ATAL, electrical, environmental/indoor air quality, HVAC/R, and industrial building MRO (maintenance, repair, and operations) professionals in the Netherlands have choices when it comes to selecting high-quality test and measurement equipment with built-in infrared technology including digital multimeters (DMMs), clamp-on meters, tachometers, thermometers, and over 300 other precision instruments.

Jerry Blakeley, general manager of Extech Instruments, commented, "Extech values our relationship with ATAL highly. They are truly Extech's ambassadors for our wide-ranging line of feature-rich precision instruments. Through ATAL, customers in the Netherlands have come to discover the 'Extech advantage:' innovative and diverse product selection, committed customer support and a reputation for quality."

Customers are invited to learn more about the Extech catalog at ATAL by visiting www.atal.nl, calling +31 (0)299 630 610 or emailing info@atal.nl.

Extech's extensive catalog covers sixteen product categories including airflow meters (anemometers); moisture and humidity meters (hygrometers and psychrometers); fiber optic, light and sound meters (including dosimeters); water quality meters; gas detectors; pressure meters; calibrators; thermocouple thermometers; voltmeters; and numerous other test and measurement devices. Well-known for its innovation-focused approach to product development, Extech has aggressively implemented built-in infrared technology across its product range. (Extech holds five patents incorporating infrared (IR) in measurement instruments.) Visit www.extech.com for a complete product listing.
